WINE COUNTRY TRAVELER SURVEY

Dear Wine Country Traveler:

As part of a larger travel study involving four counties, we are particularly interested in the details of traveler habits, particularly trip purpose. Please help us direct future roadway improvements by completing and returning this brief survey. This inter-county (Lake, Mendocino, Napa, Sonoma) study is sponsored by the following agencies:

- Mendocino Council of Governments
- Lake County/City Area Planning Council
- Sonoma County Transportation Authority
- Napa County Transportation Planning Agency
- Metropolitan Transportation Commission
- Association of Bay Area Governments
- Caltrans

Please mail your completed survey no later than October 13, 2006, in the enclosed, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Your time and response is greatly appreciated.

If you have any questions, please contact Phil Dow, Executive Director, Mendocino Council of Governments at 707-463-1859.

Dear Wine Country Traveler:

As part of a larger travel study involving four counties, we are particularly interested in the details of traveler habits, particularly trip purpose. Please help us direct future roadway improvements by completing and returning this brief survey. This inter-county (Lake, Mendocino, Napa, Sonoma) study is sponsored by the following agencies:

- Mendocino Council of Governments
- Lake County/City Area Planning Council
- Sonoma County Transportation Authority
- Napa County Transportation Planning Agency
- Metropolitan Transportation Commission
- Association of Bay Area Governments
- Caltrans

Dear Wine Country Traveler:

As part of a larger travel study involving four counties, we are particularly interested in the details of traveler habits, particularly trip purpose. Please help us direct future roadway improvements by completing and returning this brief survey. This inter-county (Lake, Mendocino, Napa, Sonoma) study is sponsored by the following agencies:

- Mendocino Council of Governments
- Lake County/City Area Planning Council
- Sonoma County Transportation Authority
- Napa County Transportation Planning Agency
- Metropolitan Transportation Commission
- Association of Bay Area Governments
- Caltrans

Please mail your completed survey no later than August 31, 2006, in the enclosed, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Your time and response is greatly appreciated.

If you have any questions, please contact Phil Dow, Executive Director, Mendocino Council of Governments at 707-463-1859.

SECTION 1

INTRODUCTION

This draft report presents the results of the Mendocino COG Origin-Destination traffic survey undertaken towards the end of the summer vacation season by T.Y. Lin International/CCS (TYLI/CCS) to better understand travel patterns throughout five key routes in the four counties of Lake, Mendocino, Napa and Sonoma County. Five key routes and segment were identified by the Mendocino COG Study Advisory Group, a committee with members from the four counties, two Caltrans Districts (1 and 4), ABAG, and MTC. Through their efforts a study effort was outlined that would result in the Group obtaining traveler information for significant roadways that cross county boundaries. The following routes identified in the request for proposal were the focus of the traveler survey. The roadway segments are shown in Figure 1, Location Map:

1. State Route 20 in Lake County (near post mile 40),
2. State Route 29 in Mendocino County (north of Tubbs Lane),
3. State Route 121 in Napa County (west of SR 12),
4. Petrified Forest Road in Calistoga, (at the east end), and
5. US 101 north of Hopland (near post mile 11)

SECTION 2

PROJECT SCOPE OF WORK

The original project proposal and scope proposed the collection of additional travel information for each of the identified study routes through a mass and manual distribution of an attractive postcard traveler survey. At an approved location along each of the five routes, a team of five individuals were proposed to hand out the postcard for a minimum of eight hours that included both the morning and evening commute periods. The traveler survey itself included six questions pertaining to the trip taken that day. The traveler survey instrument would consist of a folded postcard where the response portion would be a tear-away postcard postage pre-paid. For this project to maintain the desired statistical goal, 383 responses would be needed. Distribution approximately 5000-traveler survey would almost guarantee the minimum number of responses.

The goal with the distribution method proposed was to minimally delay traffic by handing out or manually distributing the postcards at existing already stopped locations. Distributing the postcards during the commute hours when motorists are already traveling slowly and traffic was heaviest was a key element of the proposal. Motorists would have had the opportunity to review and respond to the survey at a later time. Signage similar to that required for roadside surveys was proposed and would be incorporated in the formal encroachment permit request for each of the approving agencies.

One of the reasons for undertaking an origin and destination study would be to obtain traveler information or trip characteristics that could be used as the basis for travel forecasting and modeling in the region. The identified roadway segments were selected by the Study Advisory Committee members who based their selection on the routes location, importance to the area, and connectivity. The recent and notable shifts in housing supply particularly within Lake and Napa Counties raised questions regarding the limitations of the limited arterial street system and the resulting growth patterns that would lead to a need for future widening and other roadway improvement projects. A secondary output of this study effort included the collection of classification and traffic counts for each route.

TYLI proposed an attractive survey instrument that efficiently addressed the multi-agency study goals asking six questions with easy to check off responses relating to the trip taken that day. Exhibit A provides a copy of the traveler survey composed with the assistance of the Study Advisory Committee at the kick off meeting in July 2005.

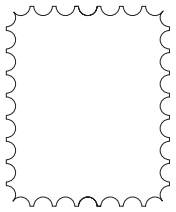

TYLI proposed a manual distribution of the postcards at established stopped locations because of our past experience with a voluntary roadside survey. TYLI identified the ability to quickly distribute the postcards similar to flyer distributions that would take very little time so as to minimally delay traffic. To embark on this project, TYLI prepared a signing and striping plan for each of the five sites with appropriate advance warning signs. Since four of the five routes required an encroachment permit from Caltrans, TYLI met with key Caltrans staff responsible for approving the encroachment permits. During discussions with appropriate Caltrans staff in both District 1 and 4, it became apparent that a manual method of distributing the traveler survey was problematic to Caltrans. The fact that an alternative route was not easily available was troublesome to Caltrans staff because they felt any delay would result in significant back-ups of traffic that because of the limited (if any) alternate routes could result in intolerable congestion for an extended period of time and they were not prepared to accept that responsibility.

Since TYLI successfully conducted a similar survey in San Joaquin County, a meeting with appropriate approving Caltrans staff was requested to lay out the survey process and directly address the concerns. A meeting was held in early August at which time the developed signing and striping plan for the postcard distribution was presented. These did not reassure Caltrans that such an effort would not result in unacceptable congestion and delays. Additionally Caltrans noted that the surveyors would have less than a 4' separation between the travel lane and the surveyor, which was in violation of State policy. For these reasons Caltrans staff denied our request to distribute the postcard traveler survey and instead proposed TYLI conduct a license plate survey which involved the recording of license plates and the creation of an electronic file of the collected license plates that would be matched to the registered addresses to which the traveler survey postcard would be mailed. Although this method appeared to be relatively straightforward, it did introduce additional steps to the processing of information. Also with this revised method a sponsor agency would be needed to obtain the list of addresses from the matched license plates. This service is not available to any private consultant directly given the confidential nature of the address file.

REVISED PROJECT SCOPE OF WORK

The scope of work was quickly revised to incorporate the recording of the vehicle license plates using the same 5-person crew at each location. Caltrans was identified as the sponsoring agency from which we would obtain the matched list of addresses. TYLI proposed the creation of simple text files for the recorded license plates one for each route and by time of day to be used to generate addresses that TYLI would subsequently mail a revised traveler survey instrument that could be completed and mailed back. The postcard instrument was revised to provide introductory information about the survey and include a postage paid business reply mailing face. At this time the Study Advisory Committee requested the survey include a Spanish version as well.

Recognizing that this process added postage cost to the process, the distribution goal was reduced to collect 3000 license plates per location. It was also understood that through the handling and matching of the license plate data some of the original data may not result in a match. Nonetheless the 383 minimum was still seen as a doable task. The revised scope of work proposed a process similar to that used in a recently completed license plate survey. In that study the text files were submitted and two weeks later the address files were returned. Hence, TYLI proposed the creation of text files for the list of collected license plates data sorted by route and time whether AM or PM.

To convert the postcard into a bi-lingual survey TYLI made arrangements with Sacramento University language staff to review the survey. At their direction a rough Spanish language draft would be prepared and sent to them for review. However, during the course of this project a Caltrans District 1 staff person was identified that could provide the final Spanish version used for this traveler survey.

TYLI revised the postcard to accommodate both an English and Spanish version on the same postcard in addition to creating the mailing side with a tear-apart business reply portion for the completed survey. Exhibit B provides the final bi-lingual postcard traveler survey completed for this study.

LICENSE PLATE DATA COLLECTON AND MATCH PROCESS

The collection of license plate information took place prior to the end of the recreation season that for this project generates the highest number of vehicles area wide. License plates were recorded before and after the Labor Day weekend. The license plate information was converted to 10 separate electronic text files and submitted to Caltrans for the matched addresses on September 29, 2005. At Caltrans' request to facilitate their processing of the files, all of the files were re-formatted using Excel spreadsheets stratified by specific file lengths. This conversion was completed in a few days and re-submitted to Caltrans for the address matching.

Traffic vehicle classification counts were also collected for each route for a 24-hour period during the same week the license plate data was being recorded. The results of the 24-counts are shown in Figure 4-1. The hourly traffic count breakdown is provided in the Appendix A.

LICENSE PLATE MATCHING PROCESS

The license plate to address matching process presented several challenges for Caltrans staff. One significant and unanticipated setback was the size of the 10 data files and the impact the processing of these files had on Caltrans division workload. More than 12,700 license plates were submitted where previous request were approximately 500 in number. Caltrans staff was also in the process of updating their match and sort process and procedures for obtaining the license plate match. Due to the size of the files and problems associated with de-bugging a new system, these situations resulted in delivery of the files with matched addresses in early December. This 10-week turn-around time, ultimately resulted in the suspension of the project.

METHODOLOGY AND ANALYSIS

According to the project scope of work once we received the address file, the traveler survey would be mailed and responses anticipated within the next 3 weeks. However given the delay in receiving the addresses the Study Advisory Committee felt too much time had passed to ensure reasonable responses and the project was suspended. Still even without responses to the traveler survey, information typically obtained as a result of a license plate study was now available. Instead of analyzing the survey results from the six questions, the statistical sub-consultant was asked to plot the addresses. Meta Research used GIS software to plot the addresses by locating its latitude and longitude. Once the address was plotted the trip length from the point of survey was determined. Scatter plots for each route by direction was plotted noting by color code whether the data was identified in the morning or afternoon (AM or PM). The resulting 10 plots identified interesting trip making characteristics by route. Although information for only one half of the trip is available (either the origin or destination), by plotting the one end of the trip insights into the trip characteristics were possible that would assist planners with appropriate trip length and type assumptions. According to the data collected the trip lengths and locations resulted in noticeable differences between the five routes. Although some address information could not be plotted (errors in the addresses) approximately 10,000 addresses were plotted and are shown in Figures 6-16 to 6-20.

Meta Research also provided the following bar charts that display the associated trip lengths for each route by direction as shown in figures.

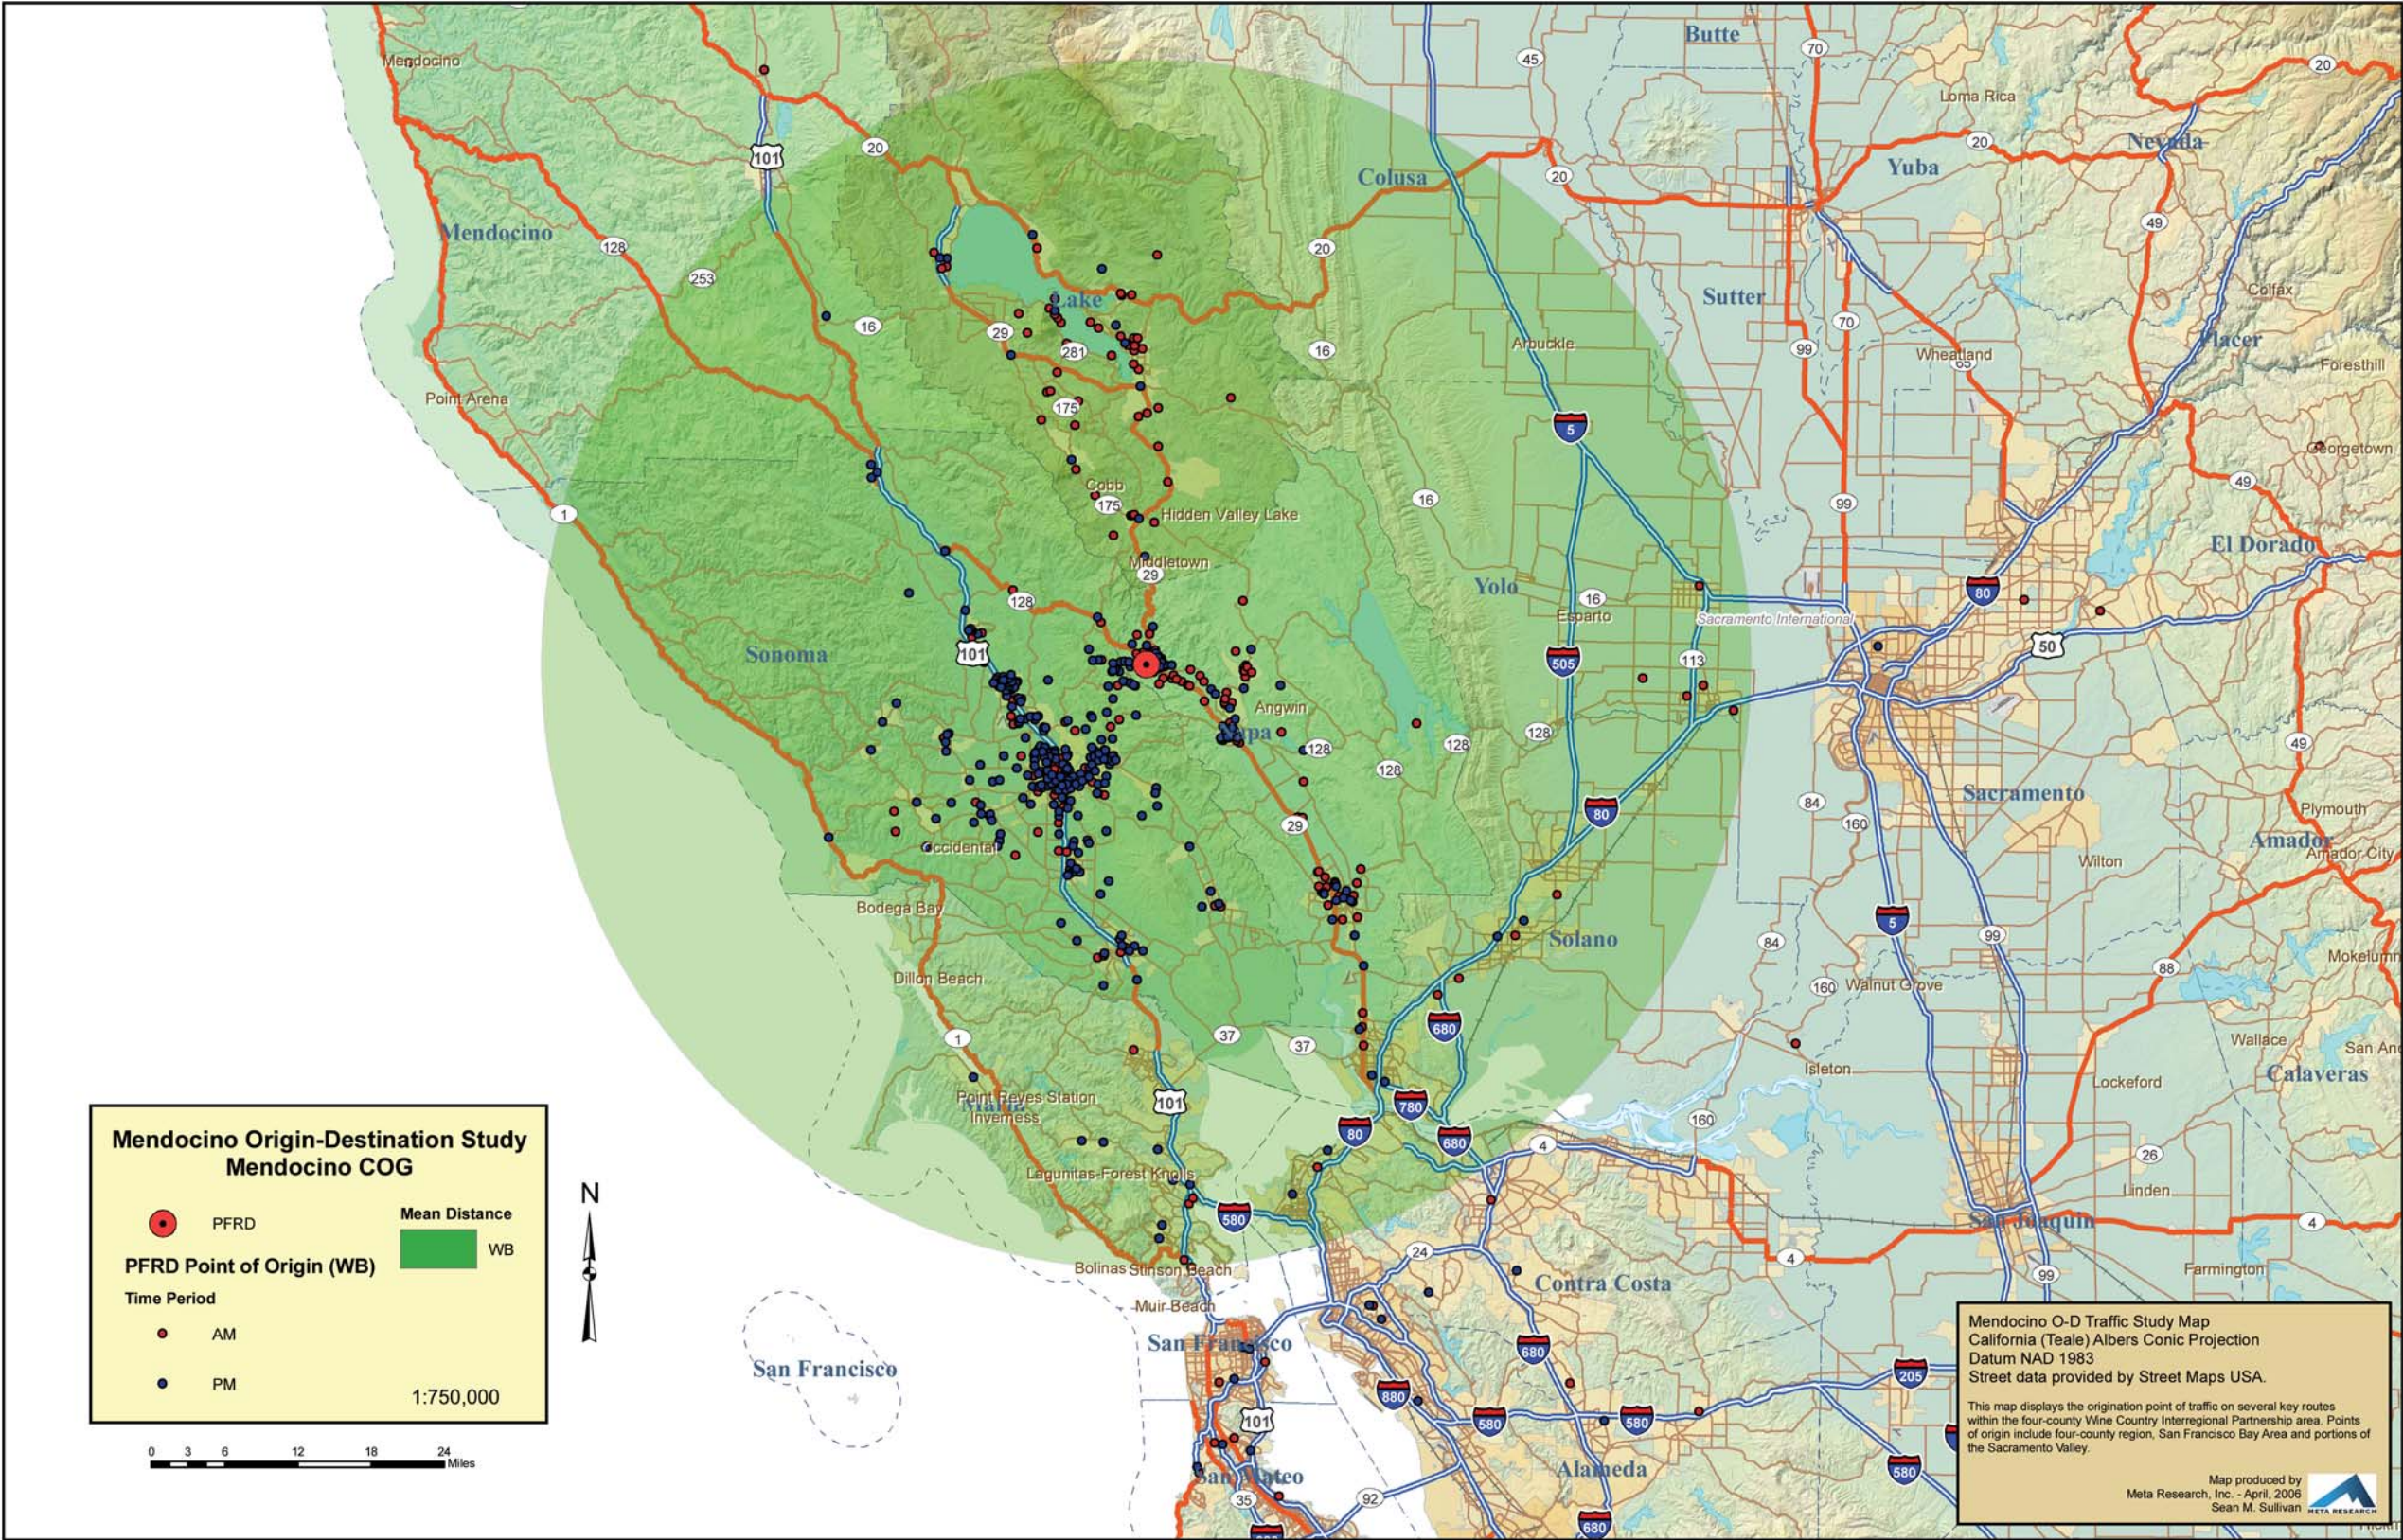

The address information revealed distinct trip patterns for each route.

- US 101 had the longest average trip lengths with a significant number of trips originating from as far south as Los Angeles, CA.
- SR 20 primarily serves trips between north Mendocino and Sacramento, CA
- Although more congested, SR 121 serves a tighter area with shorter trip lengths and a significant draw to the San Francisco Bay area.
